

1. System requirements

Software prerequisites are:

- Microsoft Windows 2000 (SP 4), XP or higher
- Microsoft .NET Framework 2.0

Hardware prerequisites are:

- Processor: 1 GHz
- Work memory: 512 MB
- Graphics board: 1024x768 resolution
- Hard disk capacity: 100 MB

2. Downloading the NCP software

To download the NCP software you need to accept the license agreement. If you have accepted the license agreement you can download the NCP Software by click on "Download NCP".

Once the file "NCP2.7_Setup.exe" has been downloaded, you can start the installation of the NCP.

3. Installing the NCP software

To install the functional NCP software the "NCP2.7_Setup.exe" file needs to be run from a local hard drive of your computer (no network drive!).

After starting the installation the NCP Setup automatically checks whether the Microsoft system environment ".NET Framework 2.0" has been installed. This is needed to be able to use the NCP software.

If .NET has been installed, then the installation is automatically continued. In case .NET is not installed (usually on computers with the Windows 2000 operating system) a message appears that prompts you to install .NET.

The .NET software is also available free of charge on the Neugart homepage. The desired language version can also be selected thereby.

Note: No entries are made in the registry during the installation of the NCP. Thus NCP can be removed without a trace by simply deleting it.

4. Activating the NCP software

After you have installed the NCP software completely you are requested to fill out the licence application when you start the software for the first time.

There are two possibilities to get the activation key for your NCP version:

1. File-Upload: By using the file-upload you will be automatically referred to a web browser. Here you can specify the filed location of your generated license file. Within 10 minutes you will receive your activation code.
2. Email: Send the generated license file to "ncp@neugart.de". Within 72 hours you will receive your activation code.

The license you receive is valid for one year.

Note: Your personal data is used exclusively for the registration with Neugart GmbH.
